Dear Parents

As I approach my last few days as Headteacher at Great Bedwyn School I would like to say a big thank you for all of your good wishes. I have not been here very long but have enjoyed my time and will take lots of good memories with me.

Today we have had a very successful Christmas dinner and tomorrow we have the party food day. Friday is of course the very last day of term and we will all be walking down to Church for the carol service and nativity tableau. We want this to be a special time.

The police have been at school again this morning monitoring the parking. We have heard again that on Monday evening during the choir concert, someone parked across a resident's driveway preventing them from getting out. This is not acceptable!

When we went to Church at Harvest a parent from Great Bedwyn was incredibly rude to a resident that wanted to drive off their driveway and people were turning cars left, right and centre, all in a hurry to get away! The school is receiving such bad press because of this and it really is unfair on the school and on the parents who abide by the rules.

Please park with care on Friday. Park as much as possible in the direction that you want to leave in. It is the season of goodwill! Hundreds of extra people in such a small area does bring issues, be patient and considerate and if at all possible walk and enjoy the buzz.

There is a Crib and Christingle service in the Church at 4pm on Christmas Eve and all are welcome.

Please do come and take a look at the lost property before Friday.

Have a good Christmas and a great 2016,

Kim Spencer
